Oregon Aero® Zeta II™ Helmet Liner

The Oregon Aero® Zeta II™ Helmet Liner is designed to replace the liner between your head and the styrene crush liner in your flight helmet. It carries perspiration away from your head and reduces skin temperature. The Liner molds to your head each time it's worn, preventing pressure points and creating a more stable fit.

INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Remove the original-issue liner from the helmet.
2. Grasp the liner in the middle with the label side out and place it into the helmet with the front of the Zeta II™ Helmet Liner toward the front of the helmet, starting at the top of the edge roll. (Photo 1)
3. Making sure it is centered in the helmet, press it to the hook fastener strips at the front. The front edge of the liner should cover the styrene liner but not cover the edge roll. (Figure A)
4. Press the Zeta II™ Helmet Liner into the helmet and then attach the liner to the hook fastener on the nape strap flap. (Figure A and Photo 2)
